

Veterans Entrepreneurship Program

Feb. 20 – Feb. 27, 2016
Oklahoma State University
Stillwater, Oklahoma

RIATA CENTER
FOR ENTREPRENEURSHIP

A Unique Entrepreneurship Program for America's Heroes

The Veterans Entrepreneurship Program provides a rigorous entrepreneurial learning and development opportunity for disabled veterans and those who distinguished themselves in their military service. It is designed for veterans who are interested in starting a venture as a means to financial independence or have an existing business that they would like to grow profitably.

The VEP offers a unique, highly innovative training program built around hands-on learning, personalized interaction and exposure to inspiring role models. Our purpose is to foster the creation of successful, profitable ventures. A team of world-class faculty, distinguished entrepreneurs and industry experts work closely with delegates, providing a challenging, interactive and informative experience. The program provides opportunities to develop entrepreneurial ideas while also learning leading-edge concepts, tools and frameworks. Most importantly, VEP participants will learn how to apply these principles and tools to current or potential businesses. Through our consortium, VEP has served 300+ veterans.

Due to an overwhelming number of applications and national support for VEP, we are proud to announce that VEP is now also offered at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga and University of Florida. Please visit their websites for more information about their program and schedule for 2016.

“What a life changing experience. I met veterans from all over the US who became a part of my VEP family. We worked hard, we supported each other, and we are still networking with each other. I was so impressed by the commitment of the professors and the concern in which they gave each one of us. I have begun telling every female as well as male veteran I can find about this wonderful program.

– GI Jane Addris, Airforce, VEP 2015 Delegate

VEP Specifics

At the heart of VEP is an intense, eight-day training program at Oklahoma State University, which will cover topical modules comprising the critical areas of success for new and early stage ventures. These eight days are preceded by a five-week self-study component and are then followed by a 10-month period of mentorship and online peer-to-peer networking. This integrated model — a three phase program covering the key elements of successful entrepreneurship — offers an innovative and effective combination of focused, practical training in venture creation and growth, accompanied by a support structure for graduates of the program.

VEP Phase I: Concept Development and Self Study Jan. 4 – Feb. 15, 2016

Over the initial five-week period, delegates will participate in a self-study curriculum developed for the VEP, facilitated by an online discussion and assessment module that will be moderated by entrepreneurship faculty from the Spears School of Business. This phase enables delegates to work on development of business concepts and prepare for the boot camp to be held at the OSU Stillwater campus in early 2016. Those with existing businesses will work on understanding and shaping relevant business issues.

VEP Phase II: VEP Boot camp Feb. 20 – Feb. 28, 2016

Like a military boot camp, this eight-day residency in Stillwater, Okla., is intense, rigorous and demanding. It is an opportunity for hands-on learning and interaction with faculty, guest entrepreneurs, business experts and peer delegates. The boot camp exposes VEP participants to the “nuts and bolts” of business ownership through experiential workshops and lessons from world-class entrepreneurship faculty representing nationally ranked programs around the country.

VEP Phase III: Mentoring and Venture Development March 2016 – December 2016

Delegates are provided with 10 months of ongoing mentorship from entrepreneurship experts at Oklahoma State University and online peer-to-peer networking. This phase of the VEP will enable delegates to get specific feedback regarding their ventures, provide access to professionals who can answer specific technical questions and offer extended hands-on support.

Sample Topical Modules Include:

- Business Concepts — how do I know if my idea is a viable one?
- Business Plans — do I need one and how do I develop something that actually helps my business?
- Funding — how much money do I really need, and how do I get it?
- Marketing — what is the best way to define and reach my market, and how do I get the answers?
- Accounting — what do I really need to know about the numbers, and how do I use that information to make smarter decisions?
- Operations — what are the keys to service delivery, cost controls, dealing with suppliers, using the Internet and other things that make the business work?
- Human Resources — what about employees and the challenges of hiring, firing, outsourcing and staffing?
- Legal Issues — when should I hire a lawyer, and how do I ask the right questions?
- Manufacturing and Prototypes — how do I set up manufacturing, and how do I get a prototype made?
- Intrapreneurship — what does it mean to be “entrepreneurial” in the corporate world?
- Commercialization - how do I get my product into the market?
- ... and much more!

New topics for 2016 VEP will include:

- Social Entrepreneurship — how can an entrepreneur be a change agent for society?
- Intro to Agriculture - how can veterans impact rural communities?

“VEP was a game changer for me. I learned a great deal about being an entrepreneur and met incredible veterans who are impacting society!

I am utilizing many skills learned at OSU for the future of my business. Just recently I spoke on resiliency, and implemented my idea of having a person impacted by trauma leading the session. My idea would not have come to light had it not been for OSU's VEP program.”
